

SEXUAL AND BODILY RIGHTS AS HUMAN RIGHTS
IN THE MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA
A WORKSHOP REPORT

PREPARED BY: LIZ ERCEVIK AMADO

EDITED BY: PINAR ILKKARACAN, MUJDE BILGUTAY

DESIGN BY: MYRA

PRINTED BY: MAS MATBAASI

© NEW WAYS 2004
Istanbul, Turkey

This publication was made possible through the support provided by International Women's Health Coalition (IWHC) and Global Fund for Women (GFW).

Women for Women's Human Rights – New Ways
Inonu Cad. Saadet Apt. 37/6 34437
Gumussuyu Istanbul Turkey
www.wwhr.org
newways2@wwhr.org

CONTENTS:

Introduction	1
Gender and Sexuality in the Middle East and North Africa: Violations of Human Rights – The national context, current issues and strategies	3
Sexuality and Transitions in Gender Identity in the Middle East and North Africa: Implications for Legal and Political Initiatives	7
Sexuality and Sexual Health: Current Status, Obstacles and Opportunities	11
Sexual and Bodily Rights as Human Rights in International Documents	15
Sexuality and the Penal Law in the Middle East and North Africa	20
Sexuality and Law in the Middle East and North Africa: National Issues and Strategies	26
Advocacy and Lobbying on Sexual and Bodily Rights on the National and Regional Levels	31
Advocacy for Sexual and Bodily Rights on the International Level	35
Closing Session and Conclusion	38